

One.com Seeks a Skilled JavaScript Developer - Dubai

As a JavaScript developer you will be a part of an existing development team, developing and improving a variety of rich Internet applications. The development team is primarily working on a gallery and a blog application. The applications are offered to all our customers as a part of their web space package.

You will be working with object oriented JavaScript, and experience with JavaScript framework is a requirement. The development team uses ExtJS but your experience is not required to be within this exact framework.

The right person

- Has experience with coding of web applications with AJAX
- Is an experienced developer with a good understanding of data structures and algorithms
- Has an experienced opinion on multiple front end technologies
- Has been working with interface development
- Seeks the best rather than the easiest solution
- Has experience with development of cross-browser compatible web applications
- Has the ability to grasp complex problems and understand code that has been written by other developers
- Has a relevant academic background, preferably in computer science

Additional skills taken into consideration are

- Object oriented JavaScript, ExtJS, JSON, XMLHttpRequest, the http-protocol, http-caching
- Load time optimization and runtime optimization in web browsers
- CSS and HTML
- A backend language e.g. Perl or PHP
- Mail-, address book- and calendar applications

We offer

A varied and challenging job where you will get the opportunity to influence the development within one of Europe's fastest growing hosting companies.

Specific details about living in Dubai

In Dubai the workweek lasts from Sunday to Thursday, and the 2 days' weekend is on Friday and Saturday. As an employee in Dubai you don't pay income tax.

Salary level

Attractive salary reflecting your qualifications

Job type

The position is full time and to start as soon as possible.

Are you our new colleague?

Please send a brief application and your full CV to jobindubai@one.com

One.com is one of Europe's fastest growing web hosting companies. We are today more than 100 employees at our offices in Denmark and Dubai, serve more than 700.000 customers and market our products in Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Germany, Netherlands, Belgium and United Kingdom. Our vision is to offer a simple, flexible and user friendly product for the beginner as well as for the professional user.